Eiken BowelCheck is new to the Australian market and has been approved by the Therapeutic Goods Administration (TGA) . Eiken BowelCheck has a strong reliable international track record of over 30 years use with no history of test recalls.

What is the Eiken BowelCheck Test? The Eiken BowelCheck is an aid for early detection of colorectal (i.e. bowel) cancer. It tests for invisible blood in the stool which, if present, may indicate the presence of bowel cancer or a benign disorder including polyps. It is a highly accurate test for blood that is quick, easy and convenient with no smell and minimal handling required.

Why should I get tested? Early detection is proved to save lives. Bowel cancer is the second most common cause of death in Australia. In Australia 250 new cases are diagnosed every week and around 80 people die from bowel cancer every week. Early detection results in a higher cure rate. With early detection of polyps, bowel cancer can even be prevented.

Why should people be tested every year from the age of 50? The risk for bowel cancer is highest for those aged 50 and over, over 90% of cases occur over the age of 50 years. A regular screening test is recommended by all authorities and yearly screening increases the chance of successful early detection. If you are under 50 years and are considering screening, especially if there is a family history of bowel cancer, this test can still be used, however we suggest you discuss it with your doctor.

What do I do if I get a positive result? A positive test means that invisible blood has been detected in your stools. In such circumstances it is strongly recommended that you should see you doctor to arrange a colonoscopy. Simple benign conditions can give a positive test, however the chance of cancer is about 1 in 20 to 1 in 10 and the chance of a polyp (that can usually be removed by colonoscopy) is about 1 in 3.

What is the price? The Eiken BowelCheck is $35.90. This includes $28.90 for each kit and its pathology processing. $7.00 is added to each kit for postal costs, for returning the sample and results . There are no extra costs. To check if you are entitled to a Medicare rebate, please talk to you Doctor.

What do I need to do after I get the kit in the mail? Read and follow the simple instructions in the kit. The test is very quick, pain free and no change of diet is needed. For more information, visit www.eikenbowelcheck.com.au or call 1300 024 784 .
